

YOU WERE TALKING ABOUT WHAT? WHERE?

We all have a responsibility to protect sensitive and critical information when we are out in public. Here are a few OPSEC measures to follow at all times:

- Never discuss sensitive military plans, activities or operations outside of the workplace.
- Do not discuss details about unit deployments while you wait in line at the grocery store.
- Limit the talk about your personal life when you are at food courts or other public areas.

...Because you never know who is listening.
